

4 Did you, really?

Paul Dummett

Work with a partner. Look at the example conversation. Then take turns to start a conversation using one of the questions 1–10 below. Keep your conversation going each time by asking five follow-up questions.

- A Really? Does he lecture at Oxford?
- B No, he works for Warwick University.
- A Oh, what subject does he teach?
- B He teaches Business administration.
- A That's interesting. Was he in business before?
- B Yes, he was a consultant with KPMG.
- A Was he? Why did he change?
- B It was very stressful. He wanted something quieter.
- A And does he like teaching?
- B Yes, he loves it.

- 1 Where do you work?
- 2 Do you work in an open-plan office?
- 3 How many people work in your department?
- 4 Where did you last go on a business trip?
- 5 Have you ever been to America?
- 6 How is work going at the moment?
- 7 What do you do when you're not working?
- 8 Do you like the cinema?
- 9 What's happening in your company these days?
- 10 What are you going to do at the weekend?