

7 Away day

Gina Cuciniello

The Managing Director of your company has recently read that fun at work is linked to higher productivity, so he's decided to send all the staff in the London office on an away day – a day out to encourage team spirit – and increase productivity!

You and your partner have been asked to choose a venue for the day. You have talked to some members of staff from different departments about what they would like to do. Look at their comments below and the newspaper cuttings and decide which venue would suit most people in the company. You have a budget of €150 per person.

A relaxing day out would be wonderful with just a little gentle exercise and lots of good food. Can we go somewhere near the office? Oh, and no silly games, please!

James, 45,
Accounts

Can we please do something cultural? What about trying new foods? We want to have fun and spend time relaxing and chatting.

Mandy, 30,
Administration

No boring discussion groups with the old guys in accounts, please! We want lots of fun activities that we've never done before!
